National Convention Is Told Must Not Change Leadership During War

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(AP)—Senator Samuel Jackson, permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention, today told the already persuaded delegates that the party must nominate, and the nation must elect, Franklin D. Roosevelt for a fourth term.

America cannot afford to take a chance," asserted the tanned, baldish Indian, secure in the knowledge that all but a hundred-odd convention votes are bundled up for F. D. R. when the balloting begins.

"The American electorate," he predicted, "will not vote for change, interruption or delay."

The stadium did not fill up as rapidly for the second day's session. Gov. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma finally banged the gavel down at 11:58 a.m. (Central War Time).

Opening the meeting with prayer, Rabbi Louis Binstock of Chicago's Temple Shalom declared that all Americans must hold high "the torch of tomorrow, that may blaze new trails x x x after the blessed peace comes."

Before the session formally got under way, the delegates cut loose with a rushing cheer when a news dispatch telling of an attempt on Hitler's life was read from the platform.

HENRY A. WALLACE, HIT COMEBACK TRAIL THURSDAY'S SESSION

SENATOR TRUMAN, HIS LEADING RIVAL GAINS SUPPORT CABINET MEMBER

By JACK BELL

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 20.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, regarded by many as all but counted out only 24 hours ago, hit the comeback trail in his fight for renomination today while Senator Harry S. Truman, his leading rival, gained the open support of one of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Postmaster General Frank Walker told reporters, "I'm for Truman."

Wallace's backers were cheered by addition of 16 Kansas votes to his column.

Kansas, its 16 convention votes previously unpledged, caucused and balloted to give them to the touts of Wallace—possibly indicating a new trend among some of the previously uncommitted delegates.

Backers of Senator Harry Truman, of Missouri, however, conceded nothing—many predicting his nomination over Wallace on the first or second ballot.

Truman, who previously had said he was not a candidate, was quoted as telling friends:

"I will win. I wouldn't be in the race if President Roosevelt didn't approve."

Many Unpledged Votes.

With 684 1-2 votes still unpledged and unclaimed, Wallace had 154 1-2 votes claimed and 165 pledged out-right—total 319 1-2. Truman had only 158 pledged and 165 needed to nominate, but apparently has been promised support from big city organizations.

As the convention prepared to renominate President Roosevelt and hear his acceptance by radio to—

SOUTHERNERS LOSE "WHITE SUPREMACY" PLANK IN PLATFORM

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—Southerners suddenly dropped their fight for a "white supremacy" plank today after the Democratic platform committee turned them down cold.

"We have exhausted every means at our power; we have run out of steam," said former Gov. Dan Moody of Texas, a leader in the fight to get the "white supremacy" plank into the platform committee's platform racial plank.

Moody said he platform fight would not be taken to the convention floor. "It could not, he explained, because the signature of only eight states could be obtained for a minority report. Twelve signatures are necessary to do this, a study of the rules showed.

Moody told reporters he does not know what effect the platform committee's action will have on Texas' electoral votes but explained the rejection of the "white supremacy" plank does not necessarily mean Texas' electors will be obligated to vote against the party nominees.

May Follow Own Discretion.

The resolution adopted by the Texas convention, he said, leaves

BRITISH ARMORED FORCES BATTLING BREAK NAZI LINES

HEAVIEST ACTION IN NORMANDY CENTERED IN CAEN BATTLE SECTOR

By WES GALLAGHER

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force July 20.—(AP)—British armor slashing forward in several directions has cut into good tank fighting country on a broad front five miles southeast of Caen and the Germans have been unable to stabilize their lines in the third day of the offensive despite their best efforts, supreme headquarters announced today.

Heavy fighting was raging, however, around a German antitank screen in the Emleville-Frenouville area from two to three and a half miles southwest of Troarn, a railway center eight miles east of Caen.

The British were reported to have swept through the Troarn railway station just outside the town, and British tanks—led by a man once the prisoner of Marshal Erwin Rommel—were engaged in hot combat inside Bourguebus, five miles southeast of Caen.

Meanwhile, a special communication announced that underground activity has been joined by an underground revolt in Belgium.

French Wreck Bridges.

The French Maquis, it was said, have wrecked 26 bridges in 10 days and destroyed a full train load of flying bombs although forced to flee five towns in south central France.

Just short of Vimont the armored drive led by Lt. Gen. Sir Richard Nugent O'Connor—who was captured in the African desert in 1941 but escaped from an Italian prison camp—jabbed into battered German position after carving out a four-mile wide spearhead south from the vicinity of Troarn, east of Caen.

Comparative quiet was registered on the American front except for local advances between St. Lo and Periers which took three villages, the supreme command announced. A dispatch from Associated Press War Correspondent Hal Boyle said American patrols crossed the Ay river in the coastal sector and other forces clashed with Germans entrenched in Lesay, western hinge of the Nazi Moselle.

Fighting raged on a bulging 10-mile front from southwest of

Feature Film Will Be Presented For Big Bond Premier

Corsicana and Navarro county theatre goers will have the opportunity of seeing one of the greatest movies of the year and at the same time help in the prosecution of a war.

As a bond premier feature "Going My Way," starring Bing Crosby, will be presented at the Palace theatre at 8 p. m. Wednesday, July 26, it was announced today by Paul Hudgins, local Interstate manager.

The price of admission will be a war bond of the "E" series of any denomination purchased anywhere in Navarro county between the dates of July 20 and July 26, the manager stated. Only one ticket for each bond.

Joe Butler, county bond sales chairman, urges the citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county to attend this feature attraction, pointing out that although Navarro county oversubscribed the "Fin" Army Loan the county quota for "E" bonds is short by approximately $100,000. "We expect a $100,000 audience for the picture premier," Butler said.

Proclaimed to be the finest entertainment to reach the screen this year, "Going My Way" is a truly a great motion picture. Crosby plays Father "Chuck" O'Malley with an outstanding cast of film favorites.

Louis A. Williams Receives Promotion

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER STATION, England—Promotion of Louis A. Williams of 402 South Thirteenth St., Corsicana, Tex., from sergeant to staff sergeant has been announced in the European Theatre of Operations.

Sgt. Williams is now on active duty as a Flying Fortress waist gunner. He has participated in many heavy bombing attacks carried out by the Eighth Air Force against German targets in Europe.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Williams, Corsicana, the 20-year-old airman is a 1941 graduate of Corsicana Senior High School. Before entering the Armed Forces, he was employed at Duncan Field in San Antonio, Tex., and has been in the Army since Jan. 25, 1943. He has two sisters serving as Army and Navy nurses, Lt. Marie Williams and Lt. Clara Parker.

See BARKLEY, Page 9.

Important Notice To All Election Officials

Immediately upon the completion of the count of your box phone (collect) results to the Corsicana Daily Sun.

The Sun will attempt to give complete county totals the night of the election. This will be impossible without your box.

Just tell the operator to connect you with the Daily Sun, Corsicana, (collect).

You should bear in mind that the Legislature passed a law requiring your returns to be phoned in immediately after the polls are closed and the count completed and imposes a stiff penalty on the precinct chairman if he should neglect to do this. The law further provides that the official returns shall be made to the County Chairman within twenty-four hours after the ballots are counted. A fine of not less than $50.00 nor more than $1,000 is the penalty fixed by law for any violation of the election law.

This is very important and your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

F. M. GLADNEY,
County Chairman.

GERMAN ARMY SHOWS SIGNS OF BREAKING BEFORE EAST PRUSSIA

LONG STRING OF GERMAN-HELD CITIES REPORTED BE TOTTERING

EDITOR'S NOTE: Daniel De Luce, veteran Associated Press war correspondent and Pulitzer prize winner, has arrived in Moscow from the Italian front to cover the Russian offensive, now driving across Poland. De Luce was in Poland when the Germans invaded that country in 1939, later covered the war in Greece and escaped from that country to Turkey.

As the convention prepared to re-elect the committee, the chairman, Herman Jones, charged before the committee that the regular Texas delegation claimed that certain members of the so-called regular delegation were not entitled to seats because they had supported Republican presidential nominees in the past.

BARKLEY HOLDS HIGH NEW DEAL STANDARD HE ONCE LOWERED

SENATE LEADER CALLS FOR RENOMINATION OF ROOSEVELT THURSDAY

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley, who six months ago laid down the New Deal standard in a bitter but short-lived quarrel with the White House, raised it high today with a call for renomination of President Roosevelt as a leader "unsurpassed if ever equalled."

It was another dramatic moment in the relations between the President and his "Dear Alben" of other days, for the Kentucky senator himself is a vice-presidential candidate lacking a favorable nod from the man he was nominating for an unprecedented 16 years as chief executive.

Barkley concluded his nominating speech to the throng packed tier upon tier in the lofty, echoing stadium with these words:

"I present to this assembly for the office of President of the United States the name of one who is endowed with the intellectual boldness of Thomas Jefferson, the indomitable courage of Andrew Jackson, the faith and patience of Abraham Lincoln, the rugged integrity of Grover Cleveland and the scholarly vision of Woodrow Wilson—Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

Barkley conceded he had disagreed on occasion with the President. But he added, in his prepared address:

"It is one thing to differ from a friend. xxxit is quite another thing

BOTH CONTESTING TEXAS DELEGATIONS RECOMMENDED SEATS

CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE WOULD SPLIT VOTE ON 50-50 BASIS

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—The credentials committee of the Democratic national convention voted 20 to six today to recommend that the convention seat both contesting delegations, allocating to each 50 per cent of the state's vote.

The committee made its decision after hearing Herman Jones, chairman of the pro-Roosevelt delegation, and Mervyn Gibson of the regular delegation present cases of their groups.

Jones charged before the committee that the regular Texas delegation claimed that certain members of the so-called regular delegation were not entitled to seats because they had supported Republican presidential nominees in the past.

AMERICAN TROOPS IN HOT PURSUIT FLEEING GERMAN IN ITALY

COLLE SALVETTI, ON DIRECT ROUTE TO PISA, HAS BEEN CAPTURED

By NOLAN NORGARD

ROME, July 20.—(AP)—American troops, reaching the south banks of the lower Arno river on a 25-mile front in hot pursuit of the Germans fleeing to their Gothic line defenses beyond the river, have captured Colle Salvetti, seven miles northeast of allied-held Livorno, allied headquarters announced today.

The latest town to fall to the Americans, fanning out against decreasing Nazi resistance, is about 10 miles southeast of Pisa, on a highway leading directly to that important enemy anchor position.

German opposition was confined largely to sniping parties armed with automatic weapons as United States forces seized the last high ground held by the Germans.

GERMANS FALL BACK ON THREE MAJOR LAND FRONTS ON THURSDAY

ANOTHER TWO-WAY AMERICAN AIR ATTACK ON GERMAN HOMELAND

By DWIGHT PITKIN

Associated Press War Editor

As the Germans fell back on the three major land fronts, the American air force struck again today like flaming swords at the heart of Germany. Two thousand British-based planes attacked the Leipzig area. An Italy-based fleet smashed at airdromes in the Munich and Friedrichshafen areas.

British armor drove back the Germans, however, struck at battles on strategic roads leading to the port of Le Havre and to Paris. Allied advances on a ten-mile front from the southwest to the east of Caen swept up more than a dozen towns.

Moscow reported that the German army showed signs of breaking in the battleground west of the Niemen river before east Prussia, as the Russians beat back the Germans in a seven-front offensive. Berlin radio said the Russians had reached Augustow at the base of the Suwalki annex to east Prussia. The German-held cities of Lwow, Brest Litovsk, Bialystok, Kaunas and Danagavilis were tottering.

Two Thousand Warplanes

An armada of 2,000 U. S. warplanes struck today into central Germany, foundling aircraft factories and synthetic oil plants around Leipzig. Bad weather limited night operations, but Mosquitos shifted their attacks from Berlin and bombed Bremen. The Germans kept up their bombardment of London and southern England with flying bombs.

German resistance in Northern Italy was reported weakening following the Allied capture of the key ports of Livorno and Ancona. British and Canadian troops drove to within one half mile of Troarn, a small railroad town seven miles east of Caen on a highway skirting the mouth of the Seine river on the south. They also approached Vimont, eight miles southeast of Caen on the high road to Paris, less than 120 miles away on the northern plain of France.

AP War Correspondent Roger Green reported from the battlefield that Marshal Rommel was committing armor on an increasing scale.

Prominent Dallas Man and His Wife Found Shot Death

DALLAS, July 20.—(AP)—Robert L. Hurt, 54, former Dallas county district attorney, and his wife were found shot to death today and a coroner's verdict held Mrs. Hurt killed her husband, then herself.

Inspector Will Fritz and other Dallas detectives broke down the door to the couple's apartment about 9 a. m. to discover the bodies lying across a bed. A pistol was clutched in the 40-year-old Mrs. Hurt's hand.

Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett conducted an inquest and returned the murder and suicide verdict.

T. Hardy, an associate of Hurt, phoned police after Bob Hurt, brother of the dead attorney, had received at his office an anonymous telephone call about the shooting.

Mrs. M. F. Sullivan of Oklahoma, was visiting her daughter in an apartment across the hall, told reporters she was awakened about 8 p. m. by a noise and when she went to her daughter decided the sound was an automobile backfiring.

Hurt, a native of Dallas county, was a grandson of the late James Mann Hurt, chief justice of the Texas supreme court for 25 years.

Nazi Fuehrer Is Burned And Bruised as Result of Attack on Thursday

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—Berlin announced that Adolf Hitler was burned and bruised in an unsuccessful bombing attempt on his life today.

Three of Hitler's military leaders were seriously injured, while his chief military advisor Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl was less seriously hurt along with five other generals and two admirals.

(The FCC said one German broadcast said the attempt on Hitler's life was "by dynamite," another mentioned "explosives" and still a third said merely "an attempt was made on the life of the fuehrer today, Thursday.")

The broadest announcement did not give the scene of the attack, but it obviously took place while Hitler was surrounded by high members of the military staff—perhaps at Hitler's headquarters.

The announcement came 16 hours after Tokyo's announcement of the fall of Premier Hideki Tojo, and Berlin said Hitler after the attack received Benito Mussolini, third member of the ill-starred trio who led the Axis into war.

Among the seriously injured, Berlin said, was Lt. Gen. Schmudt, chief of the German army's personnel department and chief military aide de camp to Hitler for several years.

Two lieutenant colonels named Brandt and Borgmann, and a "collaborator" named Berger also were listed as seriously injured.

Others Injured

Slightly injured were these: Generals Jodl, Hitler's personal military aide, Karl Bodenschatz, aide to Hitler; Guenther Korten, chief of staff of the German air force; Buhle, Heusinger and Walter Scherff.

Admirals Voss and Von Puttkammer.

A source in London with close European connections said the incident probably occurred at Breda, Holland, reported to be the headquarters of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

The same source, who cannot be identified by name, said the critical question of reserves for the German armies on three fronts had provoked a split between Rommel and Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge, commander of the forces in Normandy. He speculated that the incident might have resulted from a general division of the German staff, resulting in a brawl.

The incident followed by a few days the dismissal of Field Marshal Gen. Carl Berd Von Rundstedt from his command in the west in favor of Kluge, a shift which was interpreted abroad as a sign that the German military caste had a favor to the next type of general such as Rommel.

Another General Fired.

Yesterday another old-line Junkers general, Colo. Gen. Alexander Von Falkenhausen, was eased from his command in Belgium and North France.

Recently, dispatches from the German frontier said the death in an airplane crash of Col. Gen. Eduard Dietl, German commander in Finland who was closely attached to Hitler, might have been the result of sabotage by a rival military clique anxious to get possession of a secret document Dietl was carrying to Hitler.

If the attempt on Hitler's life took place in an occupied country it was thought likely here that it would be followed by savage reprisals on the population.

Goering Goes to Hitler.

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering at once went to Hitler upon learning of what happened, the Berlin broadcast added.

The announcement listed as slightly injured the following generals: Alfred Jodl, Hitler's chief military advisor; Korten, Buhle, Bodenschatz, Heusinger, a 1st Scherff, Admirals Voss and Von Puttkammer also were injured.

The DNB announcement said Lt. Gen. Schmudt, Lt. Col. Brandt and Lt. Col. Borgmann and Col. Lohmeyer were "seriously injured."

Schmudt was chief military aide to Hitler in the days of Munich and had since remained close to the fuehrer. He was at the Brenner Pass conference of Hitler and Benito Mussolini March 18, 1940, which preceded Italy's declaration of war upon the allies.

MAN WHO LED JAPAN INTO WAR AGAINST U.S. HAS FINALLY FALLEN

A GENERAL AND AN ADMIRAL CALLED UPON TO FORM NEW CABINET

By The Associated Press

Premier General Hideki Tojo, who led Japan into war against America and Britain and had been virtual dictator for two and a half years, has fallen with his entire cabinet and Tokyo announced today that Emperor Hirohito had ordered another general and an admiral to form a new government "in cooperation."

Hirohito's mandate was given General Kuniaki Kiso, governor general of Korea, and Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, premier in 1940, two of the most powerful leaders of the fighting services. Tokyo broadcasts said completion of the new cabinet was expected tonight or early tomorrow (Tokyo time).

The choice indicates there will be no fundamental departure from the principle of military rule. Both Kiso and Yonai have been known as aggressive proponents of Japanese expansion.

The designation of two men is unprecedented and signifies a determination to combine all elements of the army and navy in a government to cope with the situation.

burbs of Brest Litovsk in Northern Poland.

In the south the Russians for the first time had smashed through the Bug river defense which from 1939 to 1941 formed the dividing line between Russia and German-held Poland.

Third Baltic Army.
In the newest of their power-packed offensives near the Latvian republic's northeast corner, Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's third Baltic army crossed the Volga river south of Ostrov and made swift progress toward middle Latvia, the frontier only nine miles away. The Soviet air force was out in a strength never before equalled, giving sure cover for masses of tanks, cavalry and infantry which swarmed upon the Germans from the Western Bug river to the bogs of the North.

The scope of the 600-mile front made it difficult to set apart the most significant developments, but the offensive in the south where the main forces may bypass Lwow, and the wedge between Bialystok and Brest Litovsk to the north made it appear that the march to Warsaw has begun.

Headed For Warsaw.
Marshal Ivan Konev's First Ukrainian army, after capturing Sokal, 45 miles north of Lwow, and bridging the Bug, appeared to be spearheading the drive. Polish cities of Chelm and Lublin, milestones on the way to Warsaw, Sokal is 185 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's wedge between Bialystok and Brest Litovsk to the north was just 110 miles from Warsaw. The closest Red army units were about 24 miles northeast of Bialystok and were driving hard down the main highway from captured Krynki. They had only the narrow Sokolka river to cross.

By comparison, the opening of Maslennikov's smash toward Latvia, even though it showed the nazis back 26 miles on a 45-mile front in two days and helped to amass a total of nearly 1,500 human and towns captured by Russian forces, was just another development in the war which shortly may see activity from the Finnish Gulf to the lands just north of the Danube.

Meanwhile the Russian press reported signs of cracking German morale.

Germans Surrendering.

at Brody was reported surrendering by the hundreds. Red army men were rapidly rounding them up, but were taking steps for their complete extermination if any should follow Hitler's orders to die before giving up an inch of territory.

"I am sick of climbing out of one trap only to fall into another," declared one Nazi lieutenant to his captors.

Dispatches said Italians, French and Yugoslavs had been liberated from prison camps where the Germans had interned them for fear that they would desert.

The Germans obviously had lost connections with several groups when the Red army smashed the Prince Eugene line east of Lwow, and the fighting, while often unusually violent, apparently had little unity of direction from the German side.

Offensive Going Fast.
"The Red army offensive," commented the Moscow News, "which in number of troops, material and organization surpasses anything heretofore, including the offensive at the Kursk Bulge, is proceeding so rapidly that the Germans have no chance to make use of even some splendid natural defense lines."

Battle-scarred Lwow, hub of six important rail lines and in Soviet hands the last time in 1941, appeared to be lost by the reeling German defenders, who fell back over 13 miles in the last 24 hours.

Maslennikov's forces liberated 700 villages and towns in the first two days of their drive. In all, the seven Russian armies took 1,237 towns and villages.

The latest Russian communique disclosed that Marshal Ivan S. Novev's First Ukrainian army crossed the Bug river on a front of almost 100 miles north and south of Sokal on the fourth day of its offensive.

The 21st German general to be taken prisoner since the greatest Russian attacks in history were unleashed 26 days ago was captured by Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's forces in the Lithuanian salient west of the Niemen river. He was identified as Lt. Gen. Oschner, commander of the 31st infantry division.

INVASION

Caen across to the vicinity of Troarn as the British drove remnants of five and a half enemy divisions back toward Paris and the Seine. Heavy fighting was reported at the farthest announced points of advance—the outskirts of Troarn and near Vimont.

Rommel was on the run again, but it was not clear whether he was going to risk a major battle in the Caen plain. The Allied thrust still pushed ahead steadily although it had lost the speed with which it got off after the air forces shattered the German lines with an unprecedented bombing.

While British armor slugged into German anti-tank screens on the east, Canadians driving straight south from Caen swept through several villages, including Ifs and Cormelles, and at last reports were battling German units in Bourguebus five miles below Caen. This advance secured the river docks at Caen for unrestricted use of the Allies.

Heavy Armored Battles.
Heavy armored battles were raging from a considerable distance south of these villages in an area to Troarn, eight miles to the east and north. Clashes also occurred between the Odon and Orne rivers and on the road southwest to Villers-Bocage. The Germans still held Novers on the Villers-Bocage road, but the British advanced on the west.

The headquarters communique said that in the drive on Troarn the British reached a railway half a mile outside the town.

The Germans were reported offering their heaviest opposition on the outskirts of Troarn. The enemy in that vicinity was said to have thrown a large anti-tank screen across the road south to Vimont.

The first phase of the three-day-old British offensive is now over but another big effort obviously is still to come. Recently it was not clear whether Rommel will risk a major battle to hold positions in the Troarn plain or fight a slow withdrawal to the next best defensive position blocking the road to Paris.

Rommel Saves Troops.
Although a considerable number of German prisoners has been taken, including more than 1,000 in Faurbourg De Vaucelles, Rommel apparently has been able to save the main body of his troops and tanks despite the British breakthrough.

In the American sector the Germans pounded St. Lo with artillery stationed in heights south of the town but made no concerted attacks to attempt to retake it. The villages captured on the American front were La Barde, Thibots and L'Ange, engulfed in a half-mile advance on a mile front west of Remilly-Sur-Loven.

An overcast dropped to only 600 feet over the battle area yesterday, limiting air support to occasional patrols and not allowing the air forces to get at Rommel's reserve which are being shifted to meet the developing threats.

Belgian Underground Revolt
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 20.—(P)—An underground revolt in Belgium was reported tonight in a special communique from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters.

The communique said the Belgian patriots had joined with the extensive French underground in harassing action against the Germans.

Extensive French activity was reported.

The French were said to have destroyed 26 bridges in ten days and made widespread attacks on the Germans, although the patriots were forced temporarily to abandon three towns in the Ain department.

"A complete train carrying flying bombs in eastern France was destroyed by French forces of the interior," the special communique said.

AVOIDING POLIO

The medical men do not know yet just what causes infantile paralysis to show up in late summer and early fall. But they do know that most cases usually come in late August or early September. Very few begin in the winter. Some doctors think micro-organisms developing on the skins of fruits may have something to do with it. The peak of cases comes at the time when children are freely eating many kinds of unwashed fruits.

A few pointers put out by a chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis are worth noticing and remembering. They are:

Be alert to signs of fever, headache, vomiting, constipation, diarrhea, signs of a cold, during the polio outbreak.

Do NOT use sulphadiazine drugs or any home remedies.

Call a physician immediately.

Avoid overtiring, extreme exercise, sudden chilling.

Wash all fruit before eating.

In other words, do the sensible things to keep up general health, and at any sign of illness call the doctor quickly. Immediate medical care checks the crippling effects of the disease.

A final pointer is—do not be afraid, or let the child be afraid. The illness may be only a trifling upset. But call to doctor anyhow.

ROBOT BOMBING

The "robot bomb" period recently ushered in by the Germans is the most inhuman of all deviltries they have spawned. War at its best is necessarily hard and cruel, but until lately efforts have been made to preserve certain elements of human decency. There was such a thing as chivalry, toward the enemy and especially toward women and children. And usually armies did not go out of their way to destroy the homes and public buildings of the nations they fought.

It is well to keep such facts in mind, as a background against which the warfare launched and practiced by the Nazi Germans can be fairly judged. They have broken nearly all rules of warfare agreed to by civilized nations, usually refraining only when they feared retribution. The documented evidence presented by the Allied Nations after the last war was bad enough, but the recorded crimes of the Hitler regime are far more terrible.

Future civilization will find it hard to understand how any nation could have the heart to bombard whole populations, and especially to introduce this most horrible of all weapons—the mechanical or "robot" bomb. It flies toward its target burning, blasting and killing whatever it meets, as if animated by devils out of hell. And the supreme pity and shame of it is that humane nations are forced to respond in like manner to end the horrors.

THESE RISING TAXES

It is annoying to have to pay so many taxes, big and little, all the time. The five-dollar automobile tax has been recently one of the outstanding plagues. People have a tendency either to forget it, or to begrudge it because it seems an unnecessary nuisance. And when they add all the new-fangled taxes to the familiar

Edgar A. GuestBRIEFING LINE.

Brief life for all about to start?
What lies beyond for them to find?
Well, there are triumphs of the heart,
And they are won by being kind.
And they are won by being fair
And putting prejudice aside;
By standing honestly to acre;
In self-reliance taking pride.

Past doubt, there will be tears to shed,
When only rugged faith will aid.
For all must stand beside their dead,
Since 'twas to die that man was made.

There will be difficulties, too,
The source of all achievement they!
The old will break before the new,
Since settled life can never stay.
So keep your faith and trust in prayer,
The good in others try to see;
I half that's ventured do your share,
And loved and honored you will be.

ones, they just naturally start growling and kicking the government around.

But it doesn't do any good. Or at least, not much. People might as well understand, and reconcile themselves to the fact that this nation has entered a period of rising and spreading taxation, visible and invisible, which makes trivial, in comparison, the famous taxes that once started a revolutionary war in this country. For they are mostly connected, directly or indirectly, with the preservation of our liberties.

The only legitimate kicking from the contributors is based on these two principles. First, that the abnormal taxes shall be imposed as fairly as possible; and second, that the procedure of collecting them shall make as little trouble as possible for the victims. There has been some improvement in these respects, but there might be more.

MILITARY SURPLUS

A business advisory committee has recommended that surplus American war supplies left overseas when the war ends be sold "within two years through a Government merchandising corporation. This committee consists of H. D. Bennett of Toledo Scale Co., T. V. Houser of Sears Roebuck and Co., Clark Minor of International General Electric Co., and J. A. Donaldson of Butler Brothers.

There has been some fear that the surplus supplies might interfere with normal export trade after the war. But the committee thinks the devastation is so great that there should be little difficulty in disposing of our left-over industrial equipment without serious effect. "Indeed," it says, "the sooner the devastated areas can begin to produce, the sooner will they cease to be candidates for relief, and the sooner will they develop into potential customers for imported goods in general."

Good prices ought to be obtained, adds the committee. Where prices offered appear poor, it might be a good idea to make the sale of surplus property conditional upon purchase from this country of other new equipment. It is necessary to build up surpluses in order to be sure there will be no lack on fighting fronts, but their disposal always offers ticklish problems. It does look, however, as if the holes made by war were so great that all our extras could not begin to fill them. Normal export trade is expected to be large.

COURAGEOUS DANES

Look at the map and observe the tiny point of land which represents Denmark. If you stick a few pins in it, the boundary cannot be seen for the pins. But if you rate Denmark today in terms of courage, steadfastness and self-respect, there is hardly enough space on the map to show her size.

Denmark has been standing up resolutely and defying Hitler and his armies with a force of 15,000 patriots, poorly armed. She refuses to make weapons for Hitler to use in enslaving Europe. There have been general strikes and, in the good old American term,

"bonfires" and illuminations," to arouse her people against the oppressor. The Danes are made to suffer sorely for their courage, but when hard-pressed they yield only to return again and resume the task of worrying the Huns. And if they can only hold out a little longer, they will have ample help.

JEEP ERA

When the present unpleasantness is over, and the boys are back home, and things begin to look and feel normal again, there is one little matter that should be attended to while it is fresh in American minds. There should be a monument erected to the Jeep. In fact, there might well be many monuments in honor of that tough little military runabout, for the almost human service it has rendered in so many battles and on so many fronts, in its intimate connection with the fighting forces.

There is another angle to this subject, however, which may not be viewed with so much public enthusiasm. This is the prospect of American youth taking to the Jeep so universally that they will jam the streets and highways everywhere, interfering with other forms of traffic and endangering life.

There's nothing rotten in the state of Denmark except the Nazis that have crowded in.

When we get to the Philippines, there should be enough Manila rope left to hang the Japs.

Lieut. Robert McClure In Saipan Invasion

Lieut. Robert McClure has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McClure, that he was a recent participant in the Saipan Island in the Western Pacific, which he characterized as a "tough struggle."

McClure, who was formerly stationed in the Hawaiian and Marshall Islands and took part in the invasion of the latter island, is scheduled to be sent to a post camp at an early date according to word received here.

To The Voters Of Navarro County

When I was appointed county treasurer by the commissioners' court last January I accepted the office with the distinct understanding that the salary of this office would be used in helping to maintain the Corsicana Navarro Health Department.

Following the solicitation by those interested in the public health and our health department, I have agreed to enter the race for this office for the next two-year term.

The work of this office is not arduous nor time consuming. I carry little or no great responsibility, as under our present county administration the work of this office is carried on entirely by the county auditor.

It seems to me only fair and democratic that the funds derived from this office should be devoted to the public health and welfare as a whole rather than to be given to one person regardless of how worthy he might be.

If you feel as I do, and wish to improve the general health of our community, I will appreciate your vote and support in the coming city election.

Signed,
J. WILSON DAVID, M. D.

How To Keep Weevils Out Of Foods Told By Home Club Agent

This is the time of year when weevils invade cereals and other foods on the pantry shelves. This trouble and waste of food can be prevented according to Vera Sneed, county home demonstration agent.

Cereal products, or dried peas and beans as the case may be, should be heated to about 140 degrees F. for about 20 minutes. Then they should be stored in hot dry cans or jars. Miss Sneed adds that friction-top cans similar to syrup buckets are excellent for storing foods which are commonly attacked by weevils. Odd size glass jars not suitable for canning purposes are also good for storage.

If the grains, peas, or beans are to be saved for seed as well as eating, it is better to use highlife.

MISS BROADSTREET CIVITAN SPEAKER AT NOON THURSDAY

Miss Frances Broadstreet advocated a return to the liberal arts system in the public schools, the use of visual teaching aids such as films, charts, diagrams, and cartoons, and recorded language lessons in the American schools of the future in a discussion on "Business Minds and Teachers—Partners in the Plastic Age" given before the Civitan luncheon meeting in the Navarro hotel at noon today. N. Suttle Roberts and J. C. Watson were program chairmen.

While speaking of the Corsicana high school Miss Broadstreet asserted that the senior high is one of the finest American high schools lacking only an agriculture room, a gymnasium, and a band room.

Civitan speakers were warned by the speaker, however, that even if they have not been hurt too severely by the prevalent teacher shortage, the city could be confident that the shortage would soon appear in Corsicana.

"In returning to the liberal arts system we must teach the student to think, to use his imagination, and give him courage and initiative. This can be done only by teaching the whole boy in the school of the future," Miss Broadstreet concluded.

L. L. Hruska announced that the Civitans would play a soft ball game with the Lions Friday, July 21, 7 p. m. at the high school soft ball field. Tom Eady presided.

WALTER HAYES FOR SHERIFF Twenty Years of Experience

It has been impossible to contact every voter in the county due to gasoline and tire restrictions. In my four years of office I paid the County Auditor Eleven Thousand One Hundred Five Dollars and 83 cents MORE than the present sheriff paid in his first four years in office. My deputies will be the best available and I will make it pleasant enough for them to remain with me throughout my term of office. I will also permit my jailer to have the benefit of the living quarters at the jail.

I am as anxious as anyone for this horrible war to end and will do everything possible to assist in any way. I am vitally interested in its prosecution as my only son is in service. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Chicago In Convention Time

By JACK STINNETT

CHICAGO, July 20.—(P)—The Democratic national convention is in its second day, but actually its first. Here's how politics work:

The Republicans used one kind of showmanship with the Philippine delegation, the Democrats another. The Republicans hung a wreath on the delegation's allotted place in the stadium. When they called for the vote from the Philippines and none was forthcoming, there was a dramatic pause.

The Democrats didn't play it that way. The six votes allotted to the Philippines are represented. Headed by Philip Frieder, president of the Philippine Federation, the delegation includes three of the four Frieder brothers, now of Philadelphia. Holding No. 2 place on the delegation is Mrs. Bessie Dwyer. White-haired, matronly Mrs. Dwyer won't be here to cast her vote. For more than 20 years a columnist for Philippine English-speaking newspapers, Mrs. Dwyer has been even longer than that a laborer in the Democratic vineyards. Today, she's interned by the Japs. One of the delegation will vote for her.

Actually the Philippine delegation is interested in only two things here now: Perpetuation of the Democratic party which opened their door to federation; and something they can do for Paul V. McNutt, whom they still think of as the greatest commissioner the islands ever had.

Democracy, as it is practiced in these United States, is getting quite a workout at the convention here. One of the key figures is Sidney Hillman, chairman of the National Citizens' Political Action Committee which will take over for the CIO Political Action Committee from here on. Hillman is a native of Zetzie, Lithuania—in those days a part of Russia. Following immigration to the United States, he became a protégé of Mrs. Frances Perkins, now secretary of labor; and Felix Frankfurter, now associate justice of the U. S. supreme court. He doesn't see eye to eye any longer with his former sponsors, but probably more than any other individual, his weight was considered in the selection of the vice presidential nominee.

Today On The Convention Front

By JAMES MARLOW

CHICAGO, July 20.—(P)—From the general direction of heaven—upstairs in the stadium balcony—the Democrats' bald heads look just like the Republicans' bald heads of two weeks ago.

Both parties have their good-time Charleys when they set out to play. They give the bars and the nightclubs a big whirl and make a rush for steaks, of which the Chicago restaurants have plenty.

At noontime the Democrats don't seem to fit up the hotel lunch rooms as the Republicans did, and one complaining waitress thought she solved the mystery with this: "I guess it's because the Democrats have been in jobs so long they can afford to eat in their rooms."

A perspiring reporter bought a 10-cent bottle of salt tablets. The expense account could have read: but didn't—salt tablets—10 cents; but didn't—get salt tablets—$.25; thermometer to tell when to take salt tablets—$.75; sweater to prevent chill while waiting for salt tablets to take effect—$.75; total $10.10.

There have been very few dramatic moments at either convention but a real one came last night. Chairman Bob Hannegan suddenly interrupted the proceedings to announce a news bulletin that Tojo and his Japanese cabinet had quit.

There was some sharp, immediate applause. The convention needed a moment to digest the meaning of that bulletin, that it might spell a change in the Pacific war, they leaped to their feet, cheering, roaring, applauding.

LET'S DO STRAIGHT THINKING AND GIVE Luther A. Johnson AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

"Win The War And Win The Peace"

The winning of the war and the winning of the peace, and the problems arising therefrom, will make the next few years the most eventful in our Nation's history.

This is a critical time when we cannot afford to let petty politics interfere in any way with our Government's plans to win an early victory and a lasting peace.

For this reason we must not make a mistake by putting into office a newcomer with no experience in the important undertakings confronting Congress.

If there was ever a time when we need an able Congressman to represent us in Congress it is now.

Our Congressman, Luther A. Johnson, is ranking member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

He is recognized Nationally as an authority on our Foreign Affairs and his knowledge and legislative experience will be of utmost value in the solution of the problems that will arise during this critical period.

He has been a key member of Secretary Cordell Hull's committee on post-war foreign policy.

Before and since Pearl Harbor, Congressman Johnson has supported our foreign and war policy one hundred per cent.

His immediate and highest objective now is to help "Win the War and Win the Peace" -- to get your sons, and his, back home to peaceful pursuits, and to formulate a post-war policy that will insure a lasting peace.

Able and experienced Congressman like Luther Johnson are not made over night, for it takes much time, effort and initiative for a Congressman to get into the swing of governmental affairs, and to get the proper recognition from National officials and his colleagues in Congress and the Senate.

The citizens of our Congressional District are proud of the good record of Luther Johnson, and they will not let themselves be misled from his good record by letting minor and trivial political attacks from new comers overshadow his many major accomplishments.

Congressman Johnson's standing, prestige and influence in Washington are recognized Nationally. He ranks as one of the ablest Democrats in Congress.

We know his background, his good character, honesty and sincerity, and that he is true blue at all times.

As citizens, able to do our own thinking, we know that Congressman Johnson is the one we want to represent us in Washington.

When we go to the polls to vote next Saturday let us ask ourselves just one question and that is, Why Should We Not Vote for Congressman Johnson for Re-election?

Much more could be said about Congressman Johnson's excellent record in Congress but space will not permit, however, here are some Don'ts that we all should consider when voting:

Don't let us be misled or deceived by make-shift smoke screens that are thrown out to try and decoy us from re-electing Congressman Johnson to Washington.

Don't let last minute wild political propaganda and unwise political promises by an in-experienced "new comer" overcome our sane, safe and better judgment at the polls.

Don't let such political propaganda magnify in our minds minor and unimportant claims to overshadow the many major accomplishments of our present Congressman.

This is no time to play small or personal politics just to get in office, but is the time for everyone to use experienced sound judgment in every decision, both in winning an early victory and a lasting peace.

Remember, there will be plenty of time for politics after the war is won -- but not now -- when our loved ones are bleeding and dying on the battle fields throughout the world.

What Congressman Johnson wants and is working for day and night is to bring the war to an early end, and this being his main objective we should not try and block his plans, or any other Government plan, by injecting petty politics of any kind.

A vote for the re-election of Luther Johnson to Congress is a vote for an early victory, a just and permanent peace -- and that is what we all want now.

—Paid for by Friends of Our Congressman Luther A. Johnson and those who have uppermost in their hearts the ending and winning of the war.

More Gasoline For Furloughing Soldiers

PARIS, Texas, July 20—(AP)—Members of the armed forces on furlough will receive an increase in gasoline allowance, Rep. Wright Patman reports.

Rep. Patman in a speech at a political rally here last night said the office of price administration would make the allowance one gallon per day instead of the basic allowance of five gallons per furlough as now in effect.

Patman said Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, had obtained the consent of army and navy authorities for the extra gas.

Corporation Court. One was cited on an overtime parking ticket. One was cited for blocking a street with an automobile. Ten dogs were killed Wednesday by Officer K. A. Elakney.

Edley McDaniel, negro, was arrested by City Officers Blair and Spencer Wednesday night in connection with the shooting of Eugene Mayfield, negro, and was transferred to county officers. Mayfield was taken to the P. and S. Hospital.

Officers sought a group of boys in a Model A automobile Wednesday night in connection with the throwing of rocks at street lights.

One door was found unlocked. A woman reported to city officers that a man was after her sister and brother-in-law with a pistol at a night spot outside the city limits. The woman was advised to contact county officers.

Mrs. Helen Burgett Found Dead Recently In California Home

Mrs. Helen Burgett, wife of a Navarro county sailor killed in action, was found dead in her apartment in San Pedro, Calif., June 1, and had apparently been dead several days when discovered. Death was attributed to natural causes. The body was cremated and burial was in California.

Mrs. Burgett, a former resident of Boston, Mass., had visited Texas many times since her marriage in 1932 to Johnny Lois Burgett, chief machinist mate, U. S. N., whose home was in Montfort until his enlistment. Burgett enlisted in the navy in 1922, was cited for bravery in 1928 after participating in the Nicaragua campaign. He and his wife were at Pearl Harbor when the Jap bombing occurred. He narrowly escaped death by hiding in shrubbery as low flying Jap planes strafed

To the Tax Payers and Citizens of Navarro County:

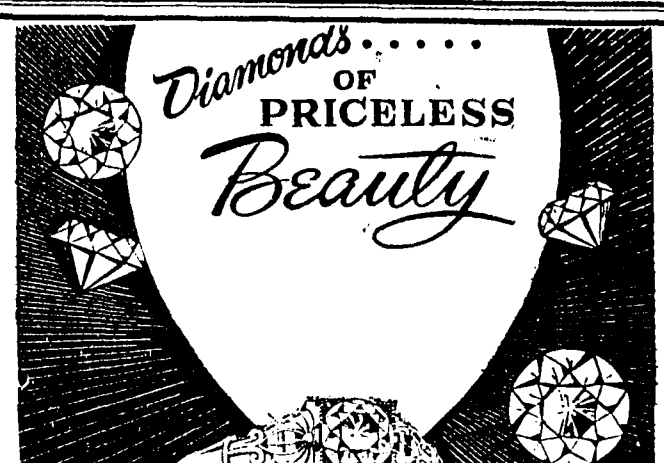

We have understood that there is a rumor to the effect that the Navarro County Cemetery has been completely and entirely done away with.

This will certify that we have personally inspected this cemetery and found it to be in very good condition. We found that approximately two-thirds of this cemetery was levelled during April of 1943 and approximately one-third more land has been broken and added to the cemetery for future burial ground. We also noted that this land has been recently cross-fenced and to the best of our knowledge this is the first cross-fencing which has been done since the ground became a cemetery.

We recommend that the county commissioners erect a marker at or near the gate of this cemetery which will be a fitting and proper memorial for the cemetery.

The cemetery was levelled in order that the commissioners might keep it in good condition at a minimum of expense to the county as a whole.

Texas Livestock Still In Fairly Good Condition

AUSTIN, Tex., July 20—(AP)—Pasture grass has dried out rapidly from hot weather and lack of rain in most of the state but livestock generally is in good condition.

The United States Department of Agriculture report for the week ended July 17 said the Panhandle and High Plains were exceptions to dry range conditions.

In dry areas livestock will begin to show shrinkage unless rains are received soon. There was a shortage of stock water in parts of the rolling plains area.

Markings of cattle and sheep picked up sharply after limited receipts from the week of July 4.

Grizzly bears can climb trees only when they are cubs.

To Citizens Of Precinct 1.

Because of war-time restrictions, I have been unable to see everyone in Precinct 1, but want to solicit your influence and vote in the approaching primary to be your commissaire.

I have resided in this precinct all my life and have never asked for a public office. If elected, will devote my entire time to the county's business as I will not have any other affairs to occupy my time due to my several years experience as a county road employee. I feel that I am qualified to see that you get your money's worth in road work as well as a business-like and economical administration in all county affairs.

 Massachusetts naming these individuals and calling for the seat of all other members of the committee was withdrawn by the committee after other members of the committee protested that such action had the effect of judging them without giving them the opportunity to be heard.

Jones Opens Argument.
 Herman Jones, chairman of the pro-Roosevelt delegation, in opening his argument before the credentials group in an effort to have his delegation placed on the permanent rolls of the convention, declared the regulars wanted to dictate to the national party and had chosen electors who would not support the party's nominees in November unless certain demands were met.

"It is a plan they have, which if carried out, will disenfranchise a great host of citizens of Texas," Jones declared.

Jones, reviewing circumstances that led up to the present controversy between rival groups and delegations, declared the anti-fourth term plan in Texas had gotten control of precinct and state conventions by a "violation of political integrity."

Boasts Charged.
 "They have boldly boasted that if they are not able to dictate to the convention here, they are not bound to support the nominee of the party," he added.

When the committee meeting opened, Meritt Gibson of Longview and Mrs. Clifford Early of Beaumont, regular delegation members of the credentials committee, were disqualified from voting on the issue. They offered to disqualify themselves, they were formally disqualified by committee members.

Discussion rose as to the time limit that should be put on debate. Paul Tinge, of St. Paul, Minn., who had moved the Texas members be disqualified, opposed any time limit, declaring the issue concerned, was of vital importance.

Other members thought 30 minutes would be sufficient for each side. Senator Abe Murdock of Utah, committee chairman, who suggested 10 minutes for each side, finally got the debate under way without any time limit after Jones said he would not use more than 30 minutes and Gibson, speaking for the regulars, said he would not need more than 15 minutes.

It was Gibson's view that his group was regularly chosen in the state convention at Austin last May and that their temporary seating here should be made permanent. Gibson, presenting the case of the regulars, was questioned sharply from the floor by committee members seeking to determine these questions:

"Is there a possibility that the 23 electors chosen by the regular Texas convention would cast their votes against the national convention's nominees?"

Legally Constituted.
 Gibson told the committee the regular convention held in Austin May 23 was legally constituted, had been so declared by the state supreme court, and that the committee by its resolutions only conditionally binding the electors was "seeking only to return the party to its ancient bearings."

"I think this delegation would vote the Democratic ticket," he said. "We would be willing to take a pledge exacted from the entire membership of this convention, but we would not be willing to be singled out to take a pledge not required of all delegations."

Replying to the question about the possibility of electors not voting for the party nominee, Gibson said:

Question Not One of Wisdom.
 "The question before this committee is whether our delegation was legally constituted. It is not one involving the wisdom of the action taken by the Austin convention. We can handle our political affairs ourselves and the people of Texas can determine that question themselves."

Gibson declared the bolting pro-Roosevelt faction left the Texas convention without waiting for a vote on the merits of the controversy, and that the voters were simply on questions of procedure. Judge Luther Hamilton, Morehead, N. C., W. C. Mann of South Carolina, Robert Hurley of Connecticut, and John F. Kaale of Massachusetts led in questioning Gibson.

No Pistol In Pocket.
 Gibson said that the Texas delegation had not come to Chicago with a pistol in its pocket, but that it looked upon conditions imposed by electors by the state convention merely as a "little persuasion."

He suggested that the pro-Roosevelt faction might also have the names of its electors printed on the general ballot, to submit the entire matter to the electorate.

A platform plank embodying the principles of the resolutions adopted in Texas by the "regular" state convention group drew the attention of the party's policy-makers. They were considering a plank drawn by former Gov. Dan Moody of Texas, chairman of the "regular" delegation. Touching on the question of negro voting and segregation in public schools.

High party leaders deliberated seriously over the suggestion of Moody, a member of the platform committee, for its adoption or rejection might determine whether the party's nominees would receive many or few of Texas' 23 votes in the Electoral College.

Plank As Submitted.
 Acting on instructions of the regular delegation that he condense the contents of the state convention resolutions and yet retain the principles involved, Moody submitted this plank:

"Exercise by the states of their reserved powers to determine the qualifications of their voters and to regulate their public schools and attendance thereon is not subject to control by either the legislative or executive branches of the federal government in the absence of a constitutional amendment ceding such powers."

Commenting on the plank, Moody said in reply to a question it "holds the key to the situation in which Texas' 23 electors are bound to vote for the party nominee only if this convention abides by certain conditions."

Approved By Mississippi.
 Attorney C. C. Remick of Dallas also a member of the platform committee and who worked with Moody on the matter, said it was approved by the Mississippi delegates.

The question of restoration of the two-thirds majority rule in selecting presidential and vice presidential nominees, another of the conditions on which the Texas regular delegation qualified its the electors free to "follow their own discretion."

Competent sources said the drafters had inscribed this language, which is subject to full convention action.

"We believe the racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and have the rights that are guaranteed by our constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional power to protect these rights."

There still was a possibility the full 100-member platform committee might revise the language of its 13-member drafting group, before the platform is presented to support of the party nominees.

was not referred to in the Moody plank. However, Attorney George Butler of Houston was to appear before the rules committee to urge restoring the two-thirds vote.

As for the seating of the Texas delegates, Herman Jones, Austin lawyer who heads the pro-Roosevelt group, declared in the tentative draft of a statement for submission today to the credentials committee: "The so-called regular delegation should not be seated for the reason that to seat such delegation places a premium on political heresy and destroys political integrity and party regularity."

Argument Advanced.
 He argued also that the regulars should not be seated because they had been instructed by their state convention not to support the party nominee except under certain conditions, and because the electors chosen by the faction were individuals "whom they knew in advance would not support the nominee of this convention" next November.

Although there were few signs that the pro-Roosevelt delegates would vigorously push their cause before the credentials committee, some members of the group indicated they might try to carry the fight to the convention floor.

Delegate Joe Steadham of Fort Worth, speaking on this point, said his fellow pro-Roosevelt delegates that National Chairman Robert Hannegan had advised against such a floor fight, but invited them to demonstrate to their "people" content in support of President Roosevelt.

He quoted Hannegan as saying that Mr. Roosevelt and the administration leaders knew who were friends and wouldn't forget it.

A militant Roosevelt backer, Steadham said he reserved the right to fight it out if he was in the mood when the time for voting arrived.

the convention this afternoon. Southerners crowded around the platform committee room all morning, seeking to learn the official wording on the racial plank, which will go a long way in determining whether party harmony can be restored in the South where many Democrats are in "revolt" on the race question.

Tennessee Holds Out.
 Tennessee's delegation continued to withhold an endorsement of President Roosevelt for renomination until Senator Kenneth D. McKellar and other leaders could get a look at the plank.

The delegation met with McKellar at a special session shortly before noon but took no action after McKellar reported he had not been able to learn the language of the plank.

From a fairly reliable source I have learned that it is not as bad as might have been feared or as severe on the people of the South," McKellar told the delegates.

The document was reported to embody a "permanent peace" plank, assumed to have President Roosevelt's approval, calling for American participation in an association of nations, with the use of arms if necessary to control warlike nations.

Questions Knotty.
 Torn between demands for racial anti-discrimination legislation, poll tax repeal and a federal law against lynching on the one hand and Southern insistence on maintenance of "white supremacy" on the other, the party planksters toiled far into the morning to complete the drafting of party principles and philosophies.

The draft was completed at 3 a. m. after action by the platform committee, it goes to the full convention. The contents then will be given to the press.

Asked about the racial plank, Senator Pepper of Florida said "any document in which more than one person collaborates is not satisfactory to everyone," but he said, "we have a good platform."

The Florida said the document was "stretched" a little beyond "post card size," but that "it is the shortest platform the Democratic party ever had."

In 1940 the Democratic platform ran around 4,000 words; this year's Republican draft was about 4,500.

DEMOCRATS

night, the lines for the Wallace Truman struggle were drawn by party leaders. These were headed by National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, vigorously backing his 60-year-old fellow Missourian.

But Wallace, as today's first caucus vote and hotel corridor talk plainly indicated, made it tough for the strategists who wanted to eliminate him and name the chairman of the senate's war-investigating committee on the first ballot.

To Nominate Byrd

Meantime, it was announced that the name of Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia would be placed in nomination for the presidency by Mrs. Fred T. Nooney of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mississippi caucused and voted to cast its 20 votes for former Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana for vice president.

Senator James O. Eastland predicted Mississippi's votes would be switched to Truman whenever it became apparent Sam Jones cannot win.

North Dakota caucused and voted to give its 8 votes to Wallace.

Chairman Hannegan said it was possible the convention would reach a vote on the vice presidential choice tonight, but believed it more likely the balloting for second place would go over until tomorrow.

Wallace got some unexpected help from secretary of interior Harold Ickes, who was reported reliably to have sent the Democratic telegram declaring that Mr. Roosevelt had made a "mistake" in naming Truman as a second choice.

Ickes, who is credited with having once urged Wallace to get out of the race, now was said to be backing the Iowa strongly because of his "liberal" views.

The vice president, who confirmed that such a telegram had been sent, has reiterated his intention to remain in the race until the last ballot.

Says Sentiment Encouraging

Wallace told reporters crowding around the cornstalk high Iowa standard:

"All I know is that there is strong evidence of a fine liberal sentiment in this convention and it is encouraging."

Later, in an after-midnight speech to several hundred delegates from western states, Wallace said he had been called a "radical" because he had insisted that it was possible to raise the standard of living for all the people.

"There is a tremendous ground swell of liberal sentiment—possibly a ground swell the like of which this country has not seen in many years—among the delegates to this convention," he said.

"There is a fresh wind blowing through the United States. We can be sure it will rise ever stronger—until we are using all our manpower, resources and technical skill to produce a higher standard of living for all our people."

"That's what I believe, and I have been called a radical for it. But I have never thought that standing for that made me a radical."

Hague and Kelly

Comfortably ensconced on the convention platform while Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma was shouting challenge after challenge to Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, two men of might in Democratic councils gave the inner circle's answer to the vice Presidential puzzle.

Said Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City's vote-producing organization:

"If President Roosevelt's for Truman, I'm for him."

Echoed Mayor Ed Kelly of the potent Chicago-Illinois aggregation:

"Of course, Roosevelt's for Truman."

There were others, like Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri whose re-election campaign would suffer from association with that of a home-state vice Presidential candidate, who thought the reportedly labor-approved Truman a "cinch."

Peppers Is Hot

But others begged to disagree, including thoroughly aroused Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, who demanded to know if the convention was going to be bossed controlled.

Presumably Pepper, an ardent administration supporter, meant by Hague, Kelly, Edward J. Flynn, New York National Committeeman, and Hannegan. The latter has made no bones about the fact that he doesn't want Wallace, who would like to see Truman named.

Jittery convention officials wondered, too, what sort of changes Senator majority leader Alben Barkley was making in a Roosevelt nominating speech which he wrote in advance, then drew back for last-minute revisions. Barkley, it became known, planned to confer with Wallace today.

After a 24-hour wait, however, Barkley decided against making any changes in his speech and then word that the press could go ahead and make the usual advance use of copies already issued.

Still fresh in the minds of party leaders were the caustic criticisms leveled at the President's tax bill

Presumably Pepper, an ardent administration supporter, meant by Hague, Kelly, Edward J. Flynn, New York National Committeeman, and Hannegan. The latter has made no bones about the fact that he doesn't want Wallace, who would like to see Truman named.

Jittery convention officials wondered, too, what sort of changes Senator majority leader Alben Barkley was making in a Roosevelt nominating speech which he wrote in advance, then drew back for last-minute revisions. Barkley, it became known, planned to confer with Wallace today.

After a 24-hour wait, however, Barkley decided against making any changes in his speech and then word that the press could go ahead and make the usual advance use of copies already issued.

Still fresh in the minds of party leaders were the caustic criticisms leveled at the President's tax bill veto several months ago by Barkley. They wondered if he was angered over the "squeeze play" being worked against him and other vice Presidential candidates in efforts to force "favorite sons" out during the lengthy count expected on the first vice Presidential roll call.

Byrnes Not Happy

There was a certain amount of anger attributed also to war mobilization director James F. Byrnes, who quit the second place fight after he got a thumbs down from President Roosevelt. This took the form of a communication to Hannegan listing Truman as second choice to Wallace, and 45-year-old William O. Douglas, of the Supreme Court, as third.

The Douglas reference apparently died on the vine but the Truman boom rolled on despite further demands from Pepper and Senator Joseph Guffey of Pennsylvania that Hannegan display the letter.

If Hannegan had such a letter, said Pepper, he ought to show it. Guffey said he doubted that all of the massive had been quoted.

"It is time," said Guffey, one of the sachems of the Pennsylvania Democratic organization, "that Mr. Hannegan remember that he was elected chairman of the National committee to serve all the members of our party, to give some of his time to the party and not all of it entirely to the candidate of Hannegan, Kelly, Hague and Flynn."

Platform Troubles

The Democrats also were having their troubles trying to please balking Southern delegations and still get some kind of racial statement in their platform that would not alienate Northern negro votes.

They were agreed on a peace preservation plank calling for an "in-with authority to use armed force, if necessary."

There was one thing, however, that about 90 per cent of the delegates could agree on enthusiastically—the wanted Mr. Roosevelt to have a fourth term. They said so, with stamping feet, shrill whistles and vocal acrobatics every time his name was mentioned.

But the old rebel yell was missing. The South was not having any. About 125 of its delegates were reported ready to cast protest ballots for Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. The Roosevelt victory was so certain, however, that the President planned to accept the nomination by radio tonight.

Second Day's Climax

That was to be the culmination of the second day's session, marked early in the afternoon by a speech by Senator Samuel D. Jackson of Indiana, the permanent chairman. Jackson was ready to take up where Kerr left off last night with a demand for retention of the nation's commander in chief.

Kerr, a towering showman, touched off a 12-minute demonstration with a demand to know if Dewey wanted to retire such "tired old men" as the 62-year-old commander in chief, who is younger than Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Josef Stalin.

Crowding down around the platform in an old-fashioned, snake dance, the delegates stormed and swirled along with state standards borne high, thrusting them up into the perspiring Governor's hands for him to raise aloft as photographers bulbs flashed.

In the middle of the milling mob one woman in a fetching brown dress cupped her hands, shouted at the Oklahoma:

"Bob, you've got the pulse."

It was Kerr's big moment and the Oklahoma delegation made the most of it, rallying immediately after the session closed to announce proudly that "our Bob's" name would be placed in nomination for the vice Presidency.

To Present Kerr's Name

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—The Oklahoma delegation decided last night that "barring unforeseen circumstances" the name of Gov. Robert S. Kerr will be presented to the Democratic National convention as a favorite son candidate for the vice-presidential nomination. The announcement was made by Senator Elmer Thomas.

Illinois to Support Lucas

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—The Illinois delegation voted today to cast its 58 votes for Senator Scott Lucas for vice President.

O'Daniel On Convention

SAN ANTONIO, July 20.—(AP)—Maintaining that the Democratic National convention at Chicago might just as well be held by postcard, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel declared here today that the renomination of Roosevelt and Roosevelt's first choice of a running mate was a foregone conclusion.

"If Roosevelt wants Henry Wallace," added O'Daniel in an interview with the Evening News "rest assured that, in spite of apparent shadow-boxing now going on, Wallace will be the man. The plan is to get a vice president who will follow the dictates of the President, so that in the Postwar period Roosevelt can resign if he can further his own power."

"Roosevelt would like to be the president of the world, and the other nations are smart enough to appeal to the vanity of our 'king' because we have the purse but not the brains," O'Daniel continued.

If You Knew Why

People like newspaper advertising, and how they are helped by it, you should be able to do a better job of newspaper advertising, shouldn't you? Here are some facts gathered by Syracuse University's School of Journalism, under supervision of Field Secretary Hutchinson. Of the persons interviewed:

- 97 Per Cent said newspaper advertising helped them in their shopping.
- 85 Per Cent said newspaper advertising helped them keep up on styles.
- 93 Per Cent said newspaper advertising helped them know prices and values.
- 91 Per Cent said newspaper advertising helped remind them of merchandise they need.
- 94 Per Cent said newspaper advertising helped them know where to get the needed merchandise.
- 91.6 Per Cent said newspaper advertising rendered them service without causing resentment.
- 90 Per Cent said they would prefer a newspaper with advertising to one without it.

The evidence suggests that the more helpful your advertising is to newspaper readers, the bigger helpings of their patronage you'll get.

Remember, there is news in every advertisement - so read every advertisement just like you do the news columns and keep up with the times.

Barkley thrust repeatedly at the Republicans. He termed their recently adopted statement of party policy "a tired old platform" and quipped that it "looks in all directions and sees nothing."

Refers To Age

He said the Republican standard-bearer Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York had contended the men in charge of the government "have grown old and tired."

"None of those who are in charge of the government," he rejoined "are as old as the old guard which dominated the convention which met in this place three weeks ago. xxx."

To The Voters of Navarro County

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of sheriff of Navarro county. I have served you for the past five and one half years. I have only my record to offer and you are to be the judge.

May I thank the good citizenship of this County for the splendid support and co-operation that has been given me in serving you as your sheriff? The duties of the sheriff's office have pyramided somewhat since we have become engaged in world conflict. I have served you with sincerity and have striven to keep abreast with the latest law enforcement tactics and agencies, so that I might better serve my people, state and nation, during these abnormal times.

I humbly solicit your support in the coming primaries, and if elected I will continue to serve the people with fairness and to the very best of my ability.

Thank you,

What she didn't know, when she more or less borrowed a suitcase from the trailer of Albert Wright, show owner, was that it contained ten $1,000 bills wrapped in a piece of newspaper and tucked away in a hidden compartment.

The show broke up here Saturday night and left for Abilene. About "tearing down" time, Wright discovered his loss. He discovered the pretty rack girl was gone, too, and he put in an appearance at police station.

Police called the police department at Texarkana and had the girl picked up. She still had the bag, and the bag still had the $10,000. City detectives brought it back to Fort Worth today and returned it to Wright, who left to rejoin his carnival. There was no prosecution.

"My girl," the girl remarked, explaining that she even had made a side trip to Stephenville, still lugging the bag.

Slaying Suspect Killed.
CULIACAN, Mexico, July 20.—(P)—A suspect in last year's massacre of all slaying of Gov. Rafael Angel Calderon, was killed in a gun battle at Villa Union, Sinaloa, the state government announced.

The man was reported shot by federal soldiers after he was seen in the company of another believed to be a notorious outlaw called "The Gypsy" who is being sought in connection with the Looiza slaying. "The Gypsy" escaped.

NEW YORK, July 20.—(P)—Late selling hit the stock market today, with bulls which earlier had touched highs for the year, being thrown for losses of fractions to a point or so and numerous industrial taking a beating.

Dealings topped those of the preceding session, aided by a special offering of a 60,000-share block of Phelps Dodge at 22 7-8 which was quickly subscribed, transfers for the full stretch were in the neighborhood of 1,400,000 shares.

Registering peaks for 1944 or longer were Centa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Boeing and Johns-Manville. Most steels, motors and rubbers stumbled, along with Westinghouse, DuPont, Montgomery Ward and Anaconda. Pan American Petroleum dropped several points.

Irregularity prevailed in the curb with support given Chesapeake, Creole Petroleum, American Gas and Cuban Atlantic Sugar.

Heavily Fruited Stalk Of Cotton

Earl Prince of the Richland community was in Corsicana Tuesday exhibiting an exceptionally fine stalk of cotton. The stalk was well proportioned and heavily fruited. There were several full grown bolls and some half grown ones as well as numerous squares. Mr. Prince said he had 30 acres like the stalk he was displaying.

CORSICANA PILOT DECORATED—At an Eighth AAF Bomber Base, England—Captain William H. Patrick, Jr. (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick of 818 West Fifth Avenue, Corsicana, Texas, is being decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, by Col. William M. Reid, commanding officer of this heavy bomber group. The citation accompanying the presentation of the award read in part: "...for extraordinary achievement while serving as pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress during combat missions over Nazi Europe. The 22-year-old pilot has participated in many of the Eighth Air Force's successful daylight bombing assaults on vital industrial targets and military installations in Germany and the enemy-held countries of Europe. A graduate of Corsicana High School, he attended the U. S. of Texas for two years. Captain Patrick was employed by the Beauchamp-Patrick Co., of Corsicana, as a bookkeeper, before joining the Army Air Force.

CORSICANA VICTORY HORSE SHOW NETS OVER 3 THOUSAND DOLLARS BLOOD PLASMA FUND

The Corsicana Victory Horse Show staged in Corsicana July 3 and 4 under the sponsorship of the Junior Committee of the James Blair Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was a financial success in every respect with a total of $3,266.75 to be donated to the Blood Plasma Fund of the American Red Cross, according to the official financial statement released for publication Tuesday. This represents the entire proceeds of the event.

One of the most outstanding events of its nature ever staged in the southwest, much credit is due the citizenship of Corsicana and surrounding territory who contributed their time and efforts in preparing and participating in the show. An admirable contribution to a worthy cause is the general opinion concerning the event.

Mrs. John N. Harris, Jr., chairman of the Junior Committee sponsoring the show, Mrs. W. M. Elliott, regent of the local DAR chapter, and Mrs. Robert Wheelock, Jr., chairman of the Horse Show, join in expressing sincere appreciation for the cooperation received from every visitor.

Highest praise of the event from out of town visitors has been received by the officials including the following:
Mrs. Frederick Brewster Ingram, Dallas, State Regent, DAR, congratulated the local organization on the "wonderful success of the horse show."
Jack R. McKinney, Nacogdoches: "Just a note to congratulate you."

VETERAN PILOT OF PACIFIC FIGHTING VISITING PARENTS

Capt. Carmack Bills, an ace with the U. S. Navy air forces in the Southwest Pacific area, credited with shooting down a number of Jap zeros, is home on leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. (Pete) Bills, Spring Hill, and other relatives. It has been learned by friends here.

Capt. Bills is a graduate of Dawson High School and Texas A. and M. College.

Injured In Accident.
Mrs. A. M. Thomas received first aid treatment at the P. and S. Hospital Monday night for injuries received in an automobile accident on the Chambers Creek bridge on Highway 75 north of Corsicana.

The other car figuring in the accident was driven by B. R. McGreer, negro, of Dallas. Both cars were damaged. Constable T. J. Roe investigated the accident and said it was unavoidable.

George T. Bradley

Who has had the misfortune of losing both of his lower limbs, will appreciate your vote Saturday, July 22. Mr. Bradley is seeking the office of County Treasurer, which will greatly aid him in the support of his wife and children. All votes solicited, and will be greatly appreciated.

CORSICANA FAIR TO BE ON LARGEST IN HISTORY OF EVENT

The Eighth Annual Corsicana Livestock and Agriculture show catalog and premium list is off the press and will soon be in the mails. Chamber of Commerce officials informed the public today.

In addition to the premium list, the catalog announces that entertainment features will include the Texas championship rodeo, a war show sponsored by the Eighth Service Command, headquarters in Dallas, and a Midway of the Greater United Shows, which is owned and operated by J. George Look, and which is the oldest operated carnival in America on its forty-second annual tour. Fourteen rides and 16 shows will be included in the Carnival run from September 12 to 17.

Rodeo Every Night
The rodeo will be held every night at 8:30 p. m. and is advertised as having "New Features, snapper program, wilder stock." Fred Prince announced that the 1944 show will be opened at 10:30 Tuesday, September 12, with a mammoth parade through the streets of downtown Corsicana. "Indications at the present time are that the Governor, together with many state officials will be present," Prince reports. "If present plans materialize, several army units will also be in the line of march, as well as various army equipment."

Many Departments
Departments will include dairy cattle, beef cattle, milking shorthorns, Brahma, sheep, swine, poultry, general agricultural exhibits, 4-H feeder calves, 4-H and FFA individual exhibits, boys' 4-H by-bird corn exhibits, boys' 4-H club dairy show, special 4-H club pig show, the women's home demonstration club with individual, club, and educational entries, girls' 4-H club exhibits, club, textile, and food entries, and community exhibits.

The negro division men and boys departments will include general agricultural exhibits, and the women and girls department will include canned products, textiles, girls' textiles, and poultry.

High Class Show
E. W. Bickett, San Antonio: "It was one of the nicest horse shows in every respect that I have ever had the pleasure of attending. You and the Horse Show committee certainly did a wonderful job in putting on the show. It was well organized and well handled. A high class show such as the Corsicana Horse Show would be credit to any city in the United States."

Audrey M. Minor, Greenwood, La.: "It was well organized and efficiently managed."

Jon Dickinson, Dallas: "Thanking you for the courtesies at the Corsicana Show. We had a grand time."

Joe D. Hughes, Houston: "You had a wonderful show and the entertainment will never be forgotten."

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Erwin, San Antonio: "We thank the fine people of Corsicana from the bottom of our hearts for making our visit with you so pleasant. We shall never forget you."

The official financial statement follows:

Promotion For Corsicana Pilot

Mrs. C. F. Adams received a cablegram today from her husband stating that he had been promoted from Captain to Major. Major Adams is now squadron commander, flying B-28s in the Cherbourg Peninsula theater of war.

Mrs. Adams and her young son, reside at the home of her mother Mrs. Calista Pearson.

Registration of Blood Donors in County Is Reported Be Lagging

Registration of blood donors in Navarro County is lagging, according to official reports. With the visit of the Red Cross Blood Donor Unit less than one week away, citizens of Navarro County are urged to call Miss Corinne McClure, telephone No. 599, at once—522 donors will be needed to provide the quota of blood recently assigned this county.

Through the Red Cross Blood Donor Service of the Navarro Chapter, with Dr. William T. Shell, Jr., as chairman, volunteer donors of this community are being given the second opportunity of contributing directly to the war effort. Their blood donations on July 26th and 27th will make it possible to save the lives of thousands of fighting men who otherwise might die of wounds on the battle fronts of the world.

The Army and Navy need millions of units of human blood to be used in transfusions to save the lives of soldiers suffering from shock following injuries, hemorrhages and burns, and the opening of the land invasion in Western Europe makes the call more urgent than ever before.

Under Official Orders
The Red Cross Blood Donor Service, under orders of the Surgeons General of the Army and Navy and approved by the secretaries of War and Navy, is attempting to meet this great need, but the need cannot be met without the cooperation of at least 522 citizens of Navarro County. Local donors will be given the opportunity of helping in this great humanitarian undertaking when the Mobile Blood Donor Unit is established in the educational building of the First Methodist Church on July 26th and 27th with a full staff of Red Cross doctors and nurses.

Requirements for Blood Donors
PERSONS WHO MAY BECOME BLOOD DONORS: Any adult in good health of ages 21 to 59 inclusive; unmarried minors 18, 19 or 20 years of age who have written permission of parents or guardian on a printed form provided by the Red Cross; married minors who have written permission of male on above-mentioned form.

PERSONS NOT ACCEPTABLE AS BLOOD DONORS: Members of the air force who participate in flight operations. This applies to plane crews of commercial airlines.

Those who have had malaria in the past 5 years.
Those who have, or have had, diabetes and tuberculosis and those who have had malaria fever within the past 5 years.

Those who have a cold.
Those who weigh less than 110 pounds.
Those under 18 years of age.
Those who are pregnant or who have been pregnant in past nine months.

During first two days of menstrual period.
DONATIONS MAY BE MADE at intervals of not less than eight weeks and not more than five times in 12 months period.

(The last visit of the Mobile Unit to Corsicana was on April 28th, 27th and 28th.)

CAUTION: Donors must not eat fatty foods within four hours before giving blood, but at any time prior to making donations they may eat or drink: tea or coffee, with sugar if desired, but without cream; bread, toast or crackers without butter but with jam or jelly, if desired; fruit juices.

Other Questions One Might Ask
WHY IS MY BLOOD NEEDED? It is needed to provide the Army and Navy with a sufficient supply of blood plasma for treatment of the sick and wounded.

IS IT AS GOOD AS THE USUAL TRANSFUSION? Yes, it is better in many cases. No blood typing is necessary and it can be administered almost immediately.

IS A PHYSICAL EXAMINATION GIVEN THE DONOR? An examination to determine fitness is given by registered nurses and a complete physical.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I AM FOUND PHYSICALLY UNFIT AS A DONOR? You are advised to see your family physician.

CADET NURSE—Miss Bobbie Mahoney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mahoney, Ennis, has enlisted in the Cadet Nurses' Corps and will receive her training at the Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, Waco. Prior to entering the service Miss Mahoney was employed at the K. W. Wolens Department Store. She is a graduate of the Corsicana high school.

Col. O. E. Ford Is Now Reported As Killed In Action

Col. Oliver Edwin Ford, 33, commanding officer, Corsicana Field in 1941-42, reported missing in action April 15, in a raid over Bucharest, is now reported killed in action, according to information in a telegram from the war department received by his wife, Mrs. Alice Smith Ford, 226 Ingle, San Antonio.

A graduate from Texas A. and M. in 1933, Col. Ford graduated from Kelly Field in 1934 and received his regular commission in the Air Corps in 1936. From 1936 until 1939 Ford served as an instructor at Randolph Field; from 1939 until 1941 he was commanding officer at the Lincoln Field Flying School, coming to Corsicana Field from that station. He returned to Randolph Field in 1942 as assistant director of pilot training. The officer left for Italy in March of this year, flying P-38 in combat.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Alice Oliver and Patricia Ann; his mother, Mrs. O. E. Ford, Sr., Crockett, and one brother, Maj. John T. Ford, now in England with the Air Corps.

Visited Husband.
Beatrice R. McCormick, county judge, returned late Monday afternoon from Abilene where she visited her husband, Pvt. E. D. McCormick, Camp Barkley, U. S. Army, during the week-end.

SIX TEXANS LISTED AMONG 322 DEAD IN NAVAL EXPLOSION

PORT CHICAGO, Calif., July 20.—(AP)—The death toll of the explosion of two ammunition-laden ships here Monday night stood at 322 today with a navy announcement of 213 names of men known to be dead or missing.

In addition to the navy list issued last night known dead or missing included 69 merchant sailors, 31 members of armed guard crews aboard the vessels, five Coast Guardsmen and four civilians caught in the blast.

A special court of inquiry will be convened by the navy tomorrow to consider all phases of the catastrophe, the 12th Naval District has announced.

Among the naval personnel listed as missing and presumably dead, were the following Texans, all enlisted men:
Beason, Raphael Orvan, S-2C—Wife, Juanita Beason, Route 7, Box 136, Palestine.
Brewer, Alvin, Jr., W-2C—Mother, Mrs. E. Brewer, 216 Midland avenue, Tyler.
Ebner, Arthur Lee, S-2C—Mother, Bertha Ebner, Gen. Del., Nacogdoches.
Johnson, the S-1C—Wife, Fanny Johnson, Royce City.
Jackson, D. C., S-2C—Wife, Clara Ollie Jackson, 815 West Sixth street, Texarkana.
Lyons, J. Robert, S-2C—Mother, Winne Nash, 1185 Lamar street, Beaumont.

Visiting Relatives.
Sam H. C. C. Christy arrived early today to visit his family and relatives here.

Corley Funeral Home will direct the arrangements.

MARCHING WITH MARTIN THE EX-MARINE

QUALIFIED! EXPERIENCED!

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

The Only Ex-Serviceman in the Race!

(Paid Political Advertisement)

Rufus Hardy, Jr.

Born and Reared in Navarro County - - - As a native son of this county, I am asking your support, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries, for the office of Representative in the Legislature.

When I announced as a candidate for Representative from this, 58th District, it was at the request of a number of friends, business men and farmers of Navarro county. I agreed to enter the race because I feel my vocation, which is farming, particularly fits me to represent this district. I also believe that my education and business experiences otherwise qualify me.

I have no ax to grind and owe no allegiance to any particular clique or group, having made no commitments. But I wish to voluntarily promise that my every effort will be directed to any and all legislation, the benefit of which might accrue to the farmer.

I feel that I am conscious of the responsibility which attaches to this office, and if elected, will serve my district honorably and diligently, to the best of my ability.

I have never aspired to public office before and would not do so now, if I did not honestly feel I might contribute something to the important developments which will follow the conclusion of the present war. I am not tainted with radicalism, and my position and influence will be used to combat any efforts in this direction. I wish to go on record as being an advocate of states rights and would defend to the fullest such rights.

Without having any political record, the virtues of which to extol, nor mistakes to defend, I can only ask that you give me an opportunity to prove my value to this district by electing me to the office of Representative.

I, therefore, ask for your earnest consideration when you go to the polls to vote Saturday.
